

USE OF RESTRAINING DEVICES

Policy

Temporary restraining devices, such as handcuffs, may be used when a subject is arrested to safeguard the subject or to provide safety for the officer. Use of such devices is lawful and proper, provided the officer is trained in their proper use.

All arrestees will be restrained with restraining devices, such as handcuffs, when being transported.